Miscellaneous.

The Mule in History.

CONSIDERED FROM HISTORICAL AND OTHER STANDPOINTS—A HUMOROUS VIEW OF THE DISTINGUISHING TRAITS THAT HAVE MADE THIS UNIQUE ANIMAL FAMOUS.

The mule is the animal Noah didn't take into the ark with him. I have looked over the freight-list carefully, and could not see a mule way-billed for any place. So clear-headed a man as Noah did not dare to take one on board, as he knew he would kick a hole through the craft in less than a week. I don't know a man on whose head you could pour quicksilver and run less risk of its spilling off than Noah's. He was a dreadful level-headed man, and before the freshet was over everybody on earth realized the fact.

The origin of the mule is enveloped in a good deal of mystery. Tradition informs us that when the flood had subsided, and the ark had landed on Mount Ararat, Noah was very much surprised in one of his first observations to find a good healthy mule standing on an adjoining mountain. The same tradition informs us that the mule is the only animal that lived through the flood outside of the ark.

The mule can be considered in a good many ways, though the worst place from which to consider him is directly from behind, anywhere within a radius of ten feet. I never consider a mule from that point, unless I am looking through the flue of a boiler.

Sea captains and people who have to do with mules always pay an extra rate to life insurance companies. A mule and a belt of country where yellow fever is indigenous generally stand the same as regards the death rate.

The word mule comes from the Greek, and signifies "to stop," and the mule himself comes to a stop. Like multiplied by like produces like. Grasshoppers multiplied by grasshoppers produces famine, and potato bugs multiplied by potato bugs produce a rise in the price of yeast. But when you try to multiply mules by mules they don't multiply, and hence the word mule. You may study your arithmetic and read through all of Train's lectures, but you can't discover why this is so, any more than you can why a woman cannot put on a rubber without leaning up against something.

The mule has one more leg than a milking stool, and he can stand on one and wave the other three around in as many different directions. He has only three senses, hearing, seeing and smelling. He has no more sense of taste than a stone jug; and will eat anything that contains nutriment, and he don't care two cents whether it be one per cent. or ninety-nine. All he asks is to pass him along his plate, with whatever happens to be handy round the pantry, and he won't go away and blow how poor the steak is. He just eats whatever is set before him, and asks no questions,

Mules are naturally deaf, but that supreme wisdom that teaches a little boy to wipe his nose on his sleeve, has fitted the mule out with a pair of ears that counteracts its deafness, so he can hear as readily as a person when you don't want him to. These ears answer a double purpose, as tunnels to pour sound into his head, and also as fans to brush away the flies with and keep his head cool. They are hung by hinges to the side of his head, and flap backwards and forwards like a pair of wet trowsers round a boy's legs. In cold latitudes quite a tasty business is done in mule's ears. The ears are cut off and dried, and sold for snow shoes, and the snubs are trimmed up and the mules are sent South and sold for horses. In this way a great many fine horses were purchased for the army by the United States.

If I were to have a large picture of innocence to hang up in my parlor, and I did not wish to sit for myself, I should get a correct likeness of a mule. There is innocence enough depicted in a mule's countenance to fit out a Sunday-school class. It looks as guileless as an angle-worm.

A mule never grows old or dies. Once brought into existence, he continues on forever. The original mule is now alive somewhere in the South, and is named Robert Toombs, because he is so stubborn.

Mules are chiefly found in the South and West. They have been more abused than Judas Iscariot. A boy who would not throw a stone at a mule if he got a chance would be considered by his parents as too mean to raise.

The mule is a good worker, but he cannot be depended on. He is liable to strike, and when a mule strikes, human calculation fails to find out any rule by which to reckon when he will go to work again. It is useless to pound him for he will stand more beating than a sitting-room carpet. He has been known to stand eleven days in one spot, apparently thinking of something and then start off again as though nothing had happened.

Down South, when they have a surplus of small darkeys on the plantation, they send them out into the barnyard to play where there is a loose mule. They always bid them good-bye when they start out, for they are sure the parting will be final. This is the most economical style of funeral now in the market.

To fully appreciate the mule one should listen to his voice. You never can really know whether you like a mule or not till you have heard him sing. I attended a mule concert at Fort Snelling. The programme opened with a soprano solo, then swung into a duett, and then pranced off into a trio, followed up by a quartette, and ending with a full chorus by 150 mules. I didn't hear the whole thing, for when I came to, the regimental surgeon was standing over me, giving me powerful restoratives, and I heard him say that I might possibly get out again though I would never be a well man. I have been through the New York Stock Exchange, have spent part of a day in a boiler factory, and have been on one or two Sunday-school excursions for children; but I never knew what noise was until I heard a lot of army mules bray.

One of the dead certainties of a mule is that he is sure-footed, especially with his hind feet. He never misplaces them. If he advertises that his feet will be on a certain spot at a certain time, with a sample of mule shoes to which he would call your attention, you will always find them there at the appointed time. He is as reliable as the Day of Judgment, and never cancels an engagement. Every man now living who drove a mule team during the war now draws a pension.

I never owned a mule. I came near buying one once. He was a fine-looking animal; his ears stood up like the side spires on an Episcopal church. His tail was trimmed down so that it looked like a tar brush leaning up against him. He was striped off like the American flag, and Raphael's cherubs never looked more angelic than did that mule. He looked all innocence though he was in no sense. The owner sat in his wagon with his chin resting on his hand and his elbow resting on his knee. In the other hand he held a stick with the brad on the end of it. I examined the mule and asked the man a few questions, and out of mere form inquired if the mule was kind or if he kicked. "Kind? Kick?" said the man, and those were the last words he ever uttered. He reached his stick over the front of the wagon and stuck the brad into that mule. It was awful to see a man snuffed out as quickly as he was. It almost took my breath he went so suddenly. I never saw the thread of life snap so abruptly as it did on that occasion. He didn't have time to leave a message for his family. That mule simply ducked his head, and then a pair of heels flew out behind; there was a crash, a flying of splinters, and that was all; and the next moment that mule and I stood alone, my face covered with astonishment two feet deep, and his covered with an old bridle. The next day I read an account in the telegraphic news of a shower of flesh in Kentucky. I was the only man that could explain that phenomenon, and I did not dare to lest I should be implicated in the affair with the other mule.

I have seen death in many forms, but don't recollect of ever seeing a funeral gotten up with less pomp and display that on that occasion. If I had my choice, to either work in a nitro-glycerine factory or take care of a mule, I should go to the factory, as in case of any explosion, there would be more possibility of my friends finding some little mementoes of me, with which to assuage their grief. A very small piece of me would lighten a very big sorrow.

I will hunt round and if I find any other facts that belong to the mule I will write them down and send them to you by express C. O. D.—Ex.

Outwitting a Tyrant.

It was in the year 1848 that the leading citizens of the chief towns of the Lombardo-Venetian kindom avowed openly their detestation of Austria, and they only awaited a favorable opportunity to throw off the yoke. At one of the theatres of Venice, on a certain evening, a magnificent boquet was thrown upon the stage at the feet of a beautiful danseuse. It was a rare piece of workmanship, was the boquet, and its three colors, of red, white and green, were so arranged that the symbol of Italian Independence could not be mistaken. The danseuse picked it up and kissed it repeatedly, and pressed it rapturously to her bosom, while the vast audience applauded vociferously.

On the following morning the actress was summoned before the police authorities, and was sharply questioned touching her absurd treatment of the boquet which had been thrown to her on the previous evening. She tremblingly answered that she had only done as she always did when such beautiful tributes were given to her.

"Very well," said the Austrian chief; "hereafter, when a boquet is thrown to you thus publicly, you will trample upon it with your foot. Do you understand?"

She said she understood, and she was suffered to depart. She went to some of her friends and told them what had happened.

"Ah," said the artist, Antonio Luigi, "and you will trample upon it?"

"I must."

"Then I will see that you have the right kind. Be brave, pretty one, and we will win applause again. Wait."

That evening, when the favorite danseuse had acquitted herself grandly, a hugh boquet was thrown upon the stage, Mercy! what a boquet it was! A broad field of strange flowers, the only colors yellow and black—the Imperial Standard of Austria! There was no mistaking it.

"Bestiaccia!" (great ugly beast), said the actress, loud enough to be heard over the house. And then she jumped upon the yellow and black symbol, and trampled it heartily.

For a time it seemed as though the applause would shatter the building. The police saw, and took the hint, and did not venture to interfere further with the boquets of the bold and favorite danseuse.

An Old Sunday Law.

Very recently the District Commissioners at Washington, D.C., solicited proposals for the publication of the delinquent tax list. The Sunday Herald was the lowest bidder. Its competitors at once raised the issue that it being published exclusively on Sunday the work could not be legally given to it. Finally the matter was referred to the United States Solicitor General. He decided against the Sunday paper, basing his decision on an antiquated Maryland law, enacted in 1723, "in the ninth year of the Right Honorable Charles, Absolute Lord and Proprietary of the Provinces of Maryland and Avalon, Lord of Baltimore." It is entitled "An Act to punish blasphemers, swearers, drunkards and Sabbath breakers," and among its penalties are the following:

A LEGAL RELIC OF LANG SYNE.

"If any person is found guilty, wittingly, maliciously, and advisedly of blaspheming or cursing God or of the Holy Trinity, the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, or the Godhead or any of the three persons, or of the Unity of the Godhead, or shall utter any profane words concerning the Holy Trinity or any person thereof, either by verdict or conviction or confessing, shall for the first offense be bored through the tongue, and forfeit £20 sterling; for the second offense be branded with the letter "B," burned in the forehead, and forfeit £40 sterling, and for the third offense shall suffer death without the benefit of clergy."

It appears that this barbarous enactment is still in force in this District, or at least has never been paid. Its rigid enforcement would mutilate half the tongues in the District, and the other half would go about marked in the forehead like Cain, or a U. S. army deserter, and it is safe to predict that through the fines incurred we could entirely discharge the national indebtedness in one decade.

"Debt," says Billings, "is a trap which a man sets and bates himself, and then deliberately gets into."

Pompeii.

PRESENT CONDITION OF THE EXCAVATIONS.

A correspondent of the London Athenæum writes from Naples as follows:

"A recent visit to Pompeii after a long interval enables me to give you new and interesting details of that remarkable locality. Let me caution, however, everyone against visiting it at midsummer, when the thermometer is at fever height, and the sun and Vesuvius unite their powers to scorch one. About two fifths of the city have already been disinterred, and the excavations are now being carried on by an average number of 100 men, toward the east and northeast. This part was my principal object, for with the other parts I was well acquainted, as are most of the of the readers of the Athenæum. Still, with a talkative guide by your side, some novelty en passant always presents itself. One must look in at the museum, where fresh bodies or their forms in plaster of Paris are constantly added. Years have passed since I was present at the first ingenious experiment which was made by the present senator Fiorelli to recover the forms at least of the dead, so that it is with no slight interest that I regard any progress, and considerable progress has been made in the mode of preservation. It often happens that from the superincumbent weight and other causes, the bones have been displaced—these are now removed from the debris as far as possible, so that the figure is not deformed by bones protruding from wrong places. This was first attempted in 1873, and has been continued ever since with great success. Perhaps the most beautiful figure in the collection is that of a young girl, exquisitely formed; she is lying on her face, while her hand was evidently attempting to cover her eyes. The folds of her dress, the very texture, and her hair, are all sharply defined. Near her lay, and lies, a man on his back, and by his side was, and is, an iron rod, four feet long, with which it is supposed he was forcing a rod. Close by is another female figure, with iron sandals attached to the feet, the bones of which are well preserved. Without lingering here any longer, however, let us pass on to the house in which an excavation was made in the spring, in honor of our princess. The objects found there and then, of no great value, were presented to her Royal Highness; they are an amphora, a necklace with eighty four pieces of coral, a mass of paint of yellow color, and a few other articles. In this house was a shop for 'warm drinks;' two or three good frescoes adorn the walls, and oil jars are sunk in marble slabs.

"That comparatively so little of the treasures of the Pompeiani is found is easily explained by the fact that the inhabitants, who escaped, and thieves broke into the houses, especially between the earthquake and the eruption, and carried off all articles of value. Most of the houses have indications of these visits in the modern masonwork which closes a hole. I am not aware that what are called the "water castles" have been sufficiently noted, perhaps for the reason that most have been carelessly destroyed. One however, has lately been discovered, and propped up and bound round with iron. They were buildings for supplying the neighboring houses with water. The top was a large vasca to which water was carried up by leaden pipes, a great number of which still lie under the level of the ground. By pipes the water was again distributed from house to house from the vasca. The Sarno, which supplied it, still runs underneath Pompeii, and its impurity is evident from the deposits which have been formed on the walls of the castle; its continual dropping has covered them with a king of stalactite. Further examination shows that these deposits correspond exactly with the stone with which a great part of Pompeii was built. The stone was brought from Sarno, on the river of the same name, which thus supplied the inhabitants with building material and drinking water.

"The spot on which excavations are actually carried on now is called the bathing establishment. It is an immense hall, and is still half full of pumice stone; but in the very centre of the mass, after many feet of soil had been removed, there were found, last month, four human skeletons, 'one of a woman, and by them were the following precious objects, which they were evidently carrying off. In gold, two necklaces, consisting of ninety four pieces, representing ivy leaves, two earrings, a chain with an emerald. In silver, two casseroles, a large looking glass, three vases, a ladle, six large spoons, sixteen smaller spoons, two forms for making pastry, like scallop shells, all are well preserved and highly decorated. They have been sent to the museum, but are not yet exhibited to the public.

A New Swindle.

A swindle was perpetrated in this vicinity last week which certainly has the mark of originality and newness, and as it was so successful, we give it publicity sh that other localities may be on their guard, as this one will no doubt be in the future. A couple of well dressed young men, with assumed business airs, had shipped to this place a lot of what they represented to be No. 1 mackrel, and with horse and wagon circulated throughout the town and county for the purpose of selling. Hard times, quick sales and small profits was their motto, and $4.50 to $5 for ½ barrel kegs of mackerel No. 1 which they open for inspection, did not seem high. The bait took, and for a time the fish business was lively, the strangers having no difficulty in disposing of their cargo. So well pleased were they that they told their customers they intended coming back this week with a lot of beef, etc. They won't come. There was a good sized —frican in the wood pile, and he made his appearance after a few days.

We giue the experience of one of the victims, which we understand is that of all, so far as we have heard: "I opened dem fish and used dree messes, and dey was first rate. De next time dey tasted like straw; dem fish was bad and I wants no more; anybodies can hev dem, and dere was in dat keg a store bucketful of salt." A few fish on top were first class, the balance of each keg composed of oil tainted mackerel well hidden in salt. To sum up, this victim had two kegs and a pile of salt in which he had invested $4, thinking he had about a half dollar's worth of good fish. There is a moral in this, viz: Patronize your own town merchants and leave strangers severely alone. —Chambersburg Reporter.

Playing Pedro for the Drinks.

A JUSTICE WHO WAS POSTED ON THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SANCHO AND PLAIN.

A complicated pedro arbitration was settled in Justice Moses's Court the day before yesterday. Henry Krause was charged with having assaulted Patrick McGinlay in a saloon on B. street. The quarrel grew out of a game of pedro, for the drinks, and when the Judge saw what was coming he braced himself with a Revised Hoyle and Schenck's Commentaries, and prepared to wrestle with the entanglements of the case.

The prosecuting witness first took the stand, and said:

"Ye see, yer worship, we wor playin' pedhro for the drinks—"

The Court—Sancho or plain?

Witness—Just only plain pedhro, yer worship; the ould kind. I hed four to go, d'ye see?—and I gev him three, and he tuck wan exthra on the sly, and out I pitches a diamond for the trump—d'ye see, now Judge? Well, he lays down a shpade, and thin I plays a club—the tin spot it was, I belave—and him a shpade, and thin I threw away a four uv clubs, and he clappin on a five shpot o'clubs, mind ye, says: "Pedhro!" "Pedhro be damned!" (wid all respect to you Judge,) says I: "diamonds is the only thrump, and if it isn't you didn't folly suit," says I.

Attorney Stephens—Does the Court understand the game?

The Court (sharply)—When the Court desires any information of counsel it will ask for it.

Witness—Then he grabbed me and began shlammin' me on the flure—he tuk me be surprise, d'ye see, or I cud bate the head uv him, I cud. [In corroboration of this statement the witness spat on his hands, and rubbed them together ominously.]

The next witness was George Peters, who started off quite fluently to tell what he knew:

Witness—They was a playing seven-up for the drinks and McGinlay turned the jack, and as soon as Krause passed the pack he drew to ace high and got a pair of kings.

The Court—Hold on, sir. It seems to me you are getting this thing a little mixed. Shuffle up your ideas and give us a new deal.

THE MURPHY MOVEMENT.

The good work is spreading. Over twelve hundred names have been obtained to the pledge in Bloomsburg, and meetings have been inaugurated in nearly all the neighboring villages. We are aware that this movement has its opponents, but we cannot see any good ground for opposition. Some say that it is sensational, and therefore its effects will be observable only while the meetings continue. Others say that it is a usurpation of the work of the church, that the church teaches temperance and therefore when one joins the church he signs a temperance pledge, and this movement is superfluous. Another says it is wrong to hold meetings the object of which is to check one form of sin only, and claims that men should be taught not to commit sins of any kind. Another uses any argument that happens to come handy and thus satisfies his own conscience that he ought not to sign this pledge.

There are just two sides to this question. A man either drinks, or he does not drink. If he does not use intoxicating liquors himself he owes a duty to his neighbor who does, and that duty is to do all in his power to rescue that neighbor from the path of destruction, by any and every honorable means. Signing the pledge himself is a good example and may be the direct cause of others signing who need a helping hand. It can do the temperance man no harm to sign, while his refusal may be a stumbling block in the way of others, and is therefore a sin of omission for which he must answer.

To the drinking man there is but one way open. He must stop. It is no confession of his inability to restrain his appetite because he signs a pledge, any more than it is a confession of inability to pay a debt when he signs a promissory note. Nor does it argue that he who publicly announces his intention to change his past mode of life by signing this obligation, is of weak character and unable to keep a good resolution otherwise made. It might as well be said that he who joins the church has no force of character because he thereby confesses his inability to save himself.

There can be no strength without organization, and it is far easier to control oneself when acting with others in a good cause, than it is to fight against a controlling sin single handed. Temperance is one of the requirements of a christian life which the church teaches. These meetings in no wise interfere with the work of the church; but on the other hand are an auxiliary to that institution just as much as Sunday schools are. Intemperance is the besetting sin of the American people. Let the battle rage until the monster is driven from the land.

Senator Bogy's Successor.

ST. LOUIS, September 29.—Col. David H. Armstrong, an old citizen of St. Louis, and the wheel horse of the democracy of this State for the past twenty-five years, was appointed United States Senator this evening by Governor Phelps to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lewis V. Bogy. Colonel Armstrong is at present Vice President of the board of police commissioners of this city.

Democratic Victory in Hartford.

HARTFORD, CT, October 1.—The Hartford democrats elected the entire ticket today by majorities ranging from 250 to 500. The vote in the State on the two constitutional amendments was light, but both are probably carried. The first prohibited extra compensation to public officers and the second prohibited town aid to railroads.

MOLLIE MAGUIREISM IN COLUMBIA COUNTY.

If one were to depend entirely on newspapers published at a distance for information concerning our local affairs, he would be led to the inevitable conclusion that a state of anarchy exists here and that a reign of terror has come upon our county, so long noted for its peaceful and orderly conduct. One paper informs us that the Mollie Maguires have begun a series of outrages within our limits and that the farmers are so intimidated that they obey the behests of this organization without daring to inform the authorities of threats made against their lives and property. Another announces the startling news that two men living near Rupert have been murdered by the Mollies; and still another says that the house of Wm. Ringrose was burned by them in retaliation for his having given testimony in the Exchange Hotel arson trial that led to the conviction of "Kramer, the notorious Mollie."

There is not one word of truth in any ot these reports, and we are therefore surprised to find telegraphic news in such papers as the New York Herald and the Philadelphia Times, purporting to have been sent from Bloomsburg. We are informed by the operator here that no such dispatches went over the wires from this place. It is evident that these articles originated in the fertile brain of some roving reporter who was hard pushed for sensational news. It is true that a man was recently murdered near Light Street and that the house of Ringrose was burned by an incendiary, but the above embellishments are utterly false. It is also true that notices have been found on the doors of several of our citizens informing them that they would be burned out, but since the discovery that they were put up by a little boy about ten years old "just for fun" no one has been at all alarmed by them.

Such reports, then may as well be stopped. The Mollie Maguires have enough to answer for without being burdened with the sins of others, and Columbia County, one of the most orderly in the state, is unwilling longer to bear the reputation of being in a condition of anarchy.

Col. Barr on the Man with a Mission.

[From an editorial in the "Pittsburg Post."]

* * * * But this is getting away from the Governor's messenger, Delaney, who recently made a hypocritical and canting pilgrimage to Allegheny county to induce Catholics, and especially Hibernians to vote against Colonel Noyes, and for Mackey's clerk, Hart, for state treasurer, on the lying pretense that D. O. Barr was defeated in the Democratic State Convention because he was not of the religious faith of the majority. That a ring office-holder of soiled reputation should be detailed for this business almost passes belief, but we have the statement that it is so, over the signature of Delaney in the Harrisburg Telegraph of Friday. Replying to the Patriot the man has the blushing effrontery to write:

"My mission (to Pittsburg) was not to lodges of Mollie Maguires, but to my countrymen and co-religionists in general, for the purpose of proving the truth of the assertion so prevalent in this section, namely: That the editor of the Patriot and other leading members of the democratic party did raise the issue of Mr. Barr's Catholicism before and during the late covention, and that it was owing to the untiring efforts of said editor and leaders that Mr. Barr was 'politically murdered' in the house of his friends."

This takes away one's breath in it's consumate hypocrisy and cant. The idea of the secret negotiator with the Mollie Maguires in 1875, and the hired agent of the treasury ring, having a "mission" "to my countrymen (the Irish) and co-religionists in general" (the Catholics), is about the most humiliating insult that has ever been cast upon this people or church, and they have had their full share. And this knave, it appears came here at the instance of his superiors in office, Hartranft granting him a leave of absence, to lie or bribe as occasion offered, all in the name of religion. His mission here was precisely what it was to the Mollie Maguire lodges in 1875. Then the radicals used downright bribery and pardons to purchase votes for Hartranft. Now votes are sought to perpetuate the treasury ring by this insolent lackey of the ringsters, by lying appeals to the prejudices of races and religion.

The exposure of the attempt to repeat in Allegheny county with Hibernians and Catholics the corrupt and criminal practices carried out with the Mollies in Luzerne and Schuylkill in 1875 will have but one effect, and that will be to consolidate all classes of democrats—no matter of what religion or nativity—in opposition to the ring candidates, who adopt such insulting practices to continue their reign of plunder at the state capital.

Judge Trunkey's Letter of Acceptance.

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 25, 1877.

Gentlemen: I am in receipt of yours of the 20th instant, officially informing me of my nomination as a candidate for the office of Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, by the Democratic State Convention.

Profoundly grateful for this high honor, I accept it with a deep sense of the serious duties of the office. To dispense justice according to law is the object for which courts are established; so much knowledge of the law, so clear discernment of its principles, so fixed a habit of mind to interpret and not make law, and so keen a perception of justice in a given cause are requisite in a Judge, that no man can fail to doubt his fitness when the trust is tendered by his fellow citizens. The strongest must feel his weakness and be led to look for help to Him who is Judge over all.

Should the nomination be the choice of the people, I can give no other assurance of the effort I shall make for faithful and efficient service, than the past record of my private and official life.

Thanking you personally, for your kind expressions of confidence, I remain your obedient servant,

JOHN TRUNKEY.

Additional Evidence against Joe Bradley.

Mr. Geo. W. Wilcox, now a resident of Nevada, was the amanuensis of Justice Bradley, and wrote his decision in the Florida case, which he asserts was so far favorable to Mr. Tilden as to indicate that his vote would be cast in Tilden's behalf. Mr. Wilcox is a young lawyer, and a Republican, as far as his affinity goes. In a conversation with a relative—Mr. W. L. Rockwell, of St. Louis—he expressed his utter astonishment at the final vote of old Joe, after the opinion he had dictated.

Mr. Wilcox also corroborates the statement of callers in carriages on that eventful evening. He himself was not present at the interview, for he was enjoying a cosy cigar in an ante-room while the arguments which induced the righteous Judge to change his mind were going on.

So vile a conspiracy, like murder, will out, and the scoundrels who have defrauded a nation, and made the name of the Republic a by-word of scorn, will meet their deserts, if not at this time, in the future execration of posterity.—Covington Commonwealth.

The above show $1010. road damage assessed to September Court, 1877. Persons wishing to file objections to the road or damage must do so before December Court, otherwise the same will be confirmed absolute and the county will be liable for the whole amount.

The damage in Mt. Pleasant and Jackson townships assessed to December term 1876 and February term 1877, shows at what a rapid rate damages are being allowed. While persons are complaining of hard times and heavy taxes they must take into account that the road damages add largely to that burden.

Whether the amount of the damage is excessive or not we will no here attempt to decide. The viewers appointed by the Court are the persons who allow the damage and it might be well for the public to look into the matter with care, and such of them as are appointed to attend to such duty be fully prepared to do the matter entire justice.

Below we append the damages allowed and paid by Columbia county for each year from 1855 to 1876 inclusive.

1855	$237 12	1868	$3360 00
1856	211 88	1869	2653 00
1857	129 96	1870	1939 50
1858	150 50	1871	6280 00
1859	176 42	1872	385 00
1860	305 00	1873	545 00
1861	712 00	1874	1448 30
1862	250 00	1875	1058 75
1863	272 24	1876	663 00
1864	257 50
1865	327 00
1866	926 00
1867	190 00

Amount paid from 1855 to 1867 during thirteen years is $4145 56 and from 1867 to 1876 nine years is $18332 55, at this rate for the same time it would be about $26000 00 or about six and one-half times as as much for the latter thirteen years compared with the former thirteen years.

By comparing the road damage allowed with the assessed value of the land through which roads pass, we find frequently that the damage is almost equal to such assessed value.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

THE DANVILLE, HAZLETON & WILKESBARRE RAILROAD TO BE REORGANIZED.

It is announced that this railroad company's property will be sold under foreclosure of mortgage in a few weeks. The bonds are largely owned in Montgomery and Bucks counties, and must long ago have proved nearly or quite a loss to the holders had it not been for the efforts of the committee of bondholders, consisting of Isaac Eyer, Newtown, Prof. S. W. Loch, Norristown, Wm. Kinsey, Bristol, and Jas. Black, Lancaster, to save something from this badly wrecked corporation. After many embarrassing delays and postponements, an arrangement has been made with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, by which the road will be reorganized and completed to Wilkes-Barre, and a large percentage of the money invested in the first mortgage bonds saved. Mr. Loch was chairman of the first meeting of the bondholders, held in Philadelphia more than three years ago, and at the urgent request of the bondholders of Montgomery county, has continued a member of the committee to this time. So far as known there are 37 bondholders in this county, representing an aggregate of $210,000 of bonds. Nearly all the bondholders have joined in the presen agreement to reorganize, and the others will no doubt do so if an opportunity is offered them. The office of the committee is at 47 South Third Street, Philadelphia.—Norristown Herald.

An oriental traveller describes this busy scene, witnessed on historic shores: "Our steamer landed on a beach which was the port of Antioch, where the disciples were first called Christians. There was no town at the water's edge, no people, no wharf. The passengers and the merchandise were put ashore in lighters, which ran up into the sand. A troop of camels, with their drivers, lay on the beach, ready to transfer the goods into the interior. Among the articles landed were boxes marked 'Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.,' showing that they contained medicines and whence they came. These with other goods were hoisted on the backs of camels, for transportation to Antioch. Thus the skill of the West sends back its remedies to heal the maladies of populations that inhabit those eastern shores, whence our spiritual manna came."—Windsor (Vt Chronicle.

The Russian Court invited Dr. Ayer and his family to the duke's wedding in the Royal Palace. This distinction was awarded him not only because he was an American, but also because his name as a physician had become favorably known in Russia on its passage round the world.—Pueblo (Col.) People.

The Republican convention of Carbon county nominated Joseph M. G. The notices to subscribers that have appeared in this paper were distinctly worded so as to apply to those who were more than one year in arrears. We will still receive back subscriptions at the rate of two dollars a year until after the fair.

A circular recently issued by Postmaster General Key invites the public to report promptly any losses or irregularities in correspondence to the Chief Special Agent, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., so that investigations may be speedily instituted, and negligence or dishonesty detected.

Such being the case, that Special Agent had better ascertain who stole the anti-jail circulars mailed at the Bloomsburg P. O. and addressed to parties at Mordansville and Millville.

The Republican convention of Luzerne county made nominations under the most disreputable circumstances. Delegates were purchased at from $15 to $50 apiece. Even the Scranton Republican appears disgusted with the proceedings. It says: "We suppose the public expects an unqualified indorsement of the Republican county ticket put in nomination yesterday at Wilkes-Barre. We were not present at the meeting, but hear bad reports of it. If a tithe of the scandal is true, it is time the party turned a new leaf."

FELL AMONG THIEVES.—A farmer, named Nuss, from Columbia county, came to this place on Thursday, got on a drunk and fell in with a party who, for some reason, gave him a terrible beating. After the ordeal he presented a badly used up appearance, his hands, face and clothing covered with blood, deep cuts around his eyes, and other marks seemed to indicate that he had been thrown down and kicked by his assailant or assailants. He is not likely to go on a bender around Mahanoy City again.—Mahanoy Record.

TEMPERANCE MEETINGS.

BLOOMSBURG.

The meetings at this place were kept up uninterruptedly until last Monday evening, when the number of signers aggregated about 1,600 names. On Sunday afternoon an open air meeting was held at the head of Market street, and some 64 names were added. On Monday evening a mass meeting was held in the Opera House, which was densely crowded. The following resolutions were adopted after a number of addresses had been made:

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting are due and are hereby tendered to Messrs. John L. Linton and Thomas Powell for the valuable services they have rendered to this community during the past fortnight, in the work of Gospel Temperance Reform.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting are due and are hereby tendered to the pastors of the several churches (those churches that have been opened so willingly for these Gospel Temperance meetings), their congregations and boards of Trustees, for their hearty co-operation, the opening of their churches, and the earnest and efficient work they have performed in this good work.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting are due and are hereby tendered to the proprietors of this Opera House for its gratuitous use on this occasion.

Another meeting will be held at the M. E. church this (Friday) evening.

BUCK HORN.

Under the lead of Rev. Mr. Clees the work there still continues. Over 200 names have been secured, and there is room for more.

ESPY.

Meetings have been held there since last Sunday evening, and about 119 signers to the pledge have been obtained. The citizens there are in earnest and their exertions, we hope, will exert a healthy influence in that village.

LIGHT STREET.

Work commenced there on Tuesday evening, and up to this writing 105 names have been added to the roll. The meetings still continue. Scott township is doing well.

MONTOUR.

Two meetings have been held in the Valley School House under the auspices of Rev. J Thomas, and many signatures have been obtained. And still they come.

TEMPERANCE ORGANIZATION.

Pursuant to call, on last Friday evening a large number of those who had signed the Temperance pledge met in the M. E. church for the purpose of organization. The following committee on a Constitution was appointed: C. B. Brockway, Rev. M. L. Smyser and C. Bittenbender. After consultation the committee reported the following Constitution, which was unanimously adopted:

1. The name of this organization shall be "The Christian Temperance Union of Bloomsburg."

2. Its object shall be to prevent, upon Christian principles, the use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage, and to promote generally the cause of temperance.

3. The Union shall consist of all residents of Bloomsburg and vicinity who have signed or may hereafter sign and keep the following pledge:

"With malice toward none, and charity for all, I, the undersigned, do pledge my word and honor, God helping me, to abstain from all intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and that I will, by all honorable means, encourage others to abstain.

4. No political or sectarian question shall be entertained or discussed in the Union.

5. Its elective officers shall be members of some evangelical church.

6. The officers shall be a President, 7 Vice Presidents, a Recording Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary, and six Managers, forming together the Executive Board, of which Board the pastors of the several evangelical churches shall be members ex officio.

7. A stated meeting of the Union shall be held on the last Friday of December in each year, at which meeting the necessary officers shall be elected, who shall enter upon the discharge of their duties on the first of January following, and shall continue in office until their successors are duly chosen. The Executive Board shall fill vacancies ad interim.

8. The Executive Board shall define the duties of the several officers, make the necessary bylaws, appoint such working committees of the Union as may be deemed expedient, and call such public meetings as the interests of the cause may demand. Five members of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

THE MOLLIE MAGUIRE CASES AT PITTSBURG

Mr. Kaercher returned from Pittsburg, having finished the argument in the Kehoe case on Monday afternoon. He is confident that the rulings of the lower court will be sustained by the Supreme bench. Greatly to the surprise of everybody no paper book was prepared in the case of Thos. Fisher, convicted at Mauch Chunk of the murder of Morgan Powell, and at the request of the Commonwealth's representative a nol. pros. was entered. Fisher's last hope is in the clemency of the Board of Pardons. The argument in the Hester, Tully and McHugh case was finished on Tuesday afternoon.

In the latter case Messrs. Clark and Hughes appeared for the Commonwealth, and Messrs. Freeze, Wolverton and Ryon for the defendants.

The Vermont courts have gone the whole length of the doctrine of consequential damages as set forth in the prohibitory liquor law of that State. Mrs. Ophelia Snow brought a suit for damages against the proprietors of a hotel who had sold her husband liquor, she having been thrown from a wagon in consequence of her husband's bad driving while in a state of inebriation from the effects of the liquor. The fair Ophelia won her suit, the jury giving her a verdict for $2,800. By the same token, if Mr. Snow had killed Ophelia the hotel proprietors should have been hung.

We may add that we have substantially the same law in this State.

The loveliest children's picture of the year graces Wide-Awake for October, "The Shaving-Curls," drawn by Mary A. Lathbury, illustrating the charming opening poem by Mrs. Clara Doty Bates. Following is a spirited sketch of Colorado life, "Mark at Lake Ranche," by Mrs Jewett Telford, and other interesting matter for youth of both sexes. The number also has its full complement of "Large Print" for little children, music, &c. Only $2 per annum. Ella Fairman, editor. D. Lothrop & Co., publishers, Boston, Mass.

WATER WORKS IN BLOOMSBURG.

We have called attention so often to this important subject that we fear our present remarks will fall upon apathetic ears. That there is an imperative necessity for such an improvement no one can deny. It is all that is needed to make our beautiful town nearly perfect. Larger and more expensive works have been introduced into neighboring towns containing much less population and wealth, and the citizens of those fortunate places would not under any circumstances do without them now. True, after each destructive fire our people are galvanized into brief action, but the question is soon dropped until another disastrous fire occurs. The total valuation of taxable property in Bloomsburg is $829,615. Of course some of this is farm land and should be deducted. But even with the proper reductions the necessary works could be built for a tax of one cent on the dollar for eight years. Bonds could easily be placed on the market, bearing five per cent interest.

We fully believe that in the course of eight years enough property would be saved to pay for the works. Not only that, but the cost of insurance would be greatly decreased, and a paying revenue derived from the use of the water by our citizens and public institutions.

We give below a careful estimate of the cost, made by S. W. Douglas, an eminent civil and mining engineer. He superintended the construction of water-works at Ashland, which is supplied in the same manner as is proposed for Bloomsburg. It is needless to add that the works at Ashland give unbounded satisfaction. As to Mr. Douglas's estimate of costs, we think with the shorter route suggested by him the expense would be much less than he has put it. Besides, the cost of the dam, &c., at Stony Brook is too highly estimated. Now is the time for our people to act. Labor and material are cheap, and water is a necessity.

MR. C. B. BROCKWAY:

Dear Sir:—In compliance with your request, I beg leave respectfully to submit the following estimate of the cost of constructing waterworks for the borough of Bloomsburg to you personally, based upon no examinations made by myself, but upon the survey sent me by you, made by Samuel Neyhart. Said line as located by him is not very satisfactory for several reasons. First, in several places the elevation of the ground which the line passes over comes within fourteen (14) feet of the elevation of his starting point or elevation of dam. Secondly, the profile or grade of the pipe line is very irregular. Thirdly, the line is located some distance from the public road and hence making it expensive to distribute the pipe. And fourthly, the line might be made a few thousand feet shorter and at the same time have a more regular grade.

But on the other hand, any line which you may decide upon has the advantage of not requiring extra heavy pipes, as the level of Fishing creek near the borough of Bloomsburg is not more than two hundred and fifty feet below the proposed dam of Mr. Neyhart's survey. Though the line is five and three-eighth miles long, requiring a rather long line of main pipes, they can be made very light most of the whole length of the line, and hence saving a large sum of money which of necessity is generally expended in the construction of waterworks by this system. Also, under the favorable head and establishment of a good grade for the pipe line to the borough of Bloomsburg, it could be supplied with a ten (10) inch main pipe, and at the present time the low cost of iron decides at once what material the pipe should be made of, so that I have based my estimate on a ten-inch cast iron main supply pipe from the dam to within the borough limits. The borough for the present can be amply supplied with one mile of six (6) inch pipes and one mile of four (4) inch pipes.

But I have almost forgotten the most important point, and must be the basis of this plan of supply. That is, whether the Stony Brook is sufficient of itself to supply at all times an ample flow of water. This question I am able to answer after personal examination of the flow of water from and into said brook, and testing its capacity. But I have assumed that it was, and even it not sufficient at all times, the construction of a supply dam above the main dam would be sufficient under any circumstances.

To give a full and accurate estimate I would have to make a careful survey of the whole line, also carefully gauge the Stony Brook, and consider all other contingencies which might enter into this particular waterworks.

But from my limited knowledge of the most suitable line for the main pipes, I have for the present assumed the line as surveyed by Mr. Neyhard, and knowing the cost of labor and all materials necessary for construction of said work I submit the following estimate:

1509 lengths 10 inch pipes, 645 lbs. per length, @ 1.45 cts. per lb.	$14,112 92
395 lengths 10 inch pipe, 697 lbs. per length, @ 1.45 cts. per lb	3,992 21
117 lengths 10 inch pipe, 753 lbs. per length, @ 1.45 cts. per lb.	1276 01
562 lengths ten inch pipe, 812 lbs. per length, @ 1.45 cts. per lb.	6616 98
440 lengths 6 inch pipe, 360 lbs. per length, @ 1.45 cts. per lb.	2296 00
440 lengths 4 inch pipe, 216 lbs. per length, @ 1.45 cts. per lb.	1376 00
20,000 lbs. branches, bends and special castings, @ 2½ cts. per lb.	764 00
8 ten-inch stopcocks @ $60 each	400 00
10 six-inch " @ $30 each	300 00
10 four-inch " @ $20 each	200 00
20 fire plugs at $40	800 00
Contract complete, for hauling, distributing pipes, digging ditch, laying, caulking, and refilling ditch for the whole amount of pipes to be laid,	15,000 00
Excavations, and constructing of Dam,	3,000 00
Printing and other small sundries,	300 00
Engineer's expenses and salary,	1,000 00
Total,	$51,434 12

Yours respectfully,
S. W. DOUGLASS,
Civil and Mining Engineer.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COLUMBIA COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The tenth annual session of the Columbia County Sunday School Association convened on Tuesday morning, September 25th, in the M. E. church of Catawissa, and continued in session two days, holding a morning, afternoon and evening session each day.

In the absence of the President, Rev. D. J. Waller, Jr., the Convention was presided over by the Vice President, Rev. N. Spear.

The Secretary, M. W. Nuss, was present at every session.

Mr. A. Hile, by invitation, conducted the music from Gospel Hymns in a most pleasing manner during the Convention.

The following committees were appointed:

Committee on Resolutions—Rev. S. Mitchell, Rev. G. D. Gurley, Mrs. Burnetta Ent.

Enrolling Committee—Peter R. Baldy, John Martz.

Business Committee—Rev. F. Gearhart, Christian Earnest, A. W. Spear.

Committee on Nominations—Aaron Smith, Dr. L. B. Kline, Miss Dora Snyder.

Committee on Report of Proceedings—A. W. Spear, Dr. L. B. Kline, Rev. G. B. Dechant.

Every session was opened by devotional exercises.

The Vice President delivered a very appropriate welcome address, calling the attention of Sunday school workers to the work in which they are engaged.

On the subject of choosing a superintendent and teachers, the general sentiment of the Convention was that they should be chosen subject to the approval of the church authorities in denominational schools, but in union schools no fixed rules could be laid down.

The subject of teachers' meetings (meaning those for the study of the lesson) was discussed at length, and they were believed to be essential to the prosperity of the school.

Tuesday evening's session was devoted to children, and a large number were in attendance. An infant class was taught in a very acceptable manner by Miss Sarah C. Spear.

Addresses to the children were delivered by by A. Swineford, Rev. G. D. Gurley and E. M. Tewksbury.

Rev. A. Houtz, the delegate to the State S. S. Association held in Harrisburg last June, was absent but sent in his report, which was read by the Secretary and accepted.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Peter R. Baldy.

Vice President—Rev. G. D. Gurley.

Secretary—M. W. Nuss.

Treasurer—A. W. Spear.

The following persons were elected delegates to the State Sunday School Association to be held at Pittsburg next June: Rev. E. H. Leisenring, W. J. Bidleman, C. C. Sharpless.

By request of the Association the quarterly review lesson was conducted by A. W. Spear.

The International Lessons were highly praised by all who are using them.

It was recommended that the children take part in the opening of school to induce punctuality, and that before closing the lesson be reviewed and summed up, bringing before the school the great truths taught.

The subject of the use of the catechism was discussed, its neglect in the Sunday school deplored, and an earnest desire manifested to devise some plan by which it may be more generally taught.

Light Street and Zion's Church asked for the Convention next year. The former place was fixed upon.

It was conceded by all that there is too much light literature in our Sunday school libraries, but how shall we remedy the evil?

The following persons were elected Executive Committee for the coming year: A. B. White, N. U. Funk, J. H. Aikman.

The following was adopted.

Resolved, That the Executive Committee be instructed to devise some plan by which a collection shall be taken in the different schools of this county, to defray the expenses of the Association, and paid over to the treasurer at the next convention.

It was believed that the Sunday Schools should not go begging for funds to defray its necessary expenses but should be supported by the church.

The sum of ten dollars was asked for by the Association to defray its expenses and a collection was taken up and ten dollars and ten cents were received.

Under the topic, Temperance in the Sunday School, Mr. A. Swineford, of Milton delivered an able speech.

The importance and necessity of the aid of the Holy Spirit in the Sunday School work, and the danger that the perfecting of the machinery of the school would crowd out this thought was earnestly set forth.

A vote of thanks was tendered the citizens of Catawissa for their Christian hospitality extended to the delegates of the Convention; also a vote of thanks to the Secretary of the Convention for his efficient services.

One hundred and three delegates were enrolled. Very appropriate and impressive closing words were delivered by Rev. D. J. Waller, jr., President, who came in during the last session.

FOX AND WILDCAT SCALPS.

The law giving bounties on foxes and wildcats, as to Columbia county, was approved March 31st, 1836, and comes under the head of "An Act relative to the appointment of High Constable in the borough of Lewistown, Mifflin county, and taxing dogs in said borough, and for other purposes." This is a local law and is not digested, and as many persons do not know the law it has been thought advisable to give the section relating to bounties on fox and wild cat scalps.

Sec. 5, P. L. pp. 305-6, 1836:

"That from and after the passage of this act any person who may kill any fox or foxes, wild cat or wild cats, within the counties of Mifflin, Columbia and Northampton in this commonwealth, and who shall produce the scalp of said fox or foxes, wild cat or wild cats, having the ears thereof, before any Justice of the Peace in and for the said counties of Mifflin, Columbia and Northampton, it shall be the duty of such Justice to examine such person or persons, on oath or affirmation, touching the place where and the time when such fox or foxes, wild cat or wild cats, was or were taken and killed; and if the place or places of such taking and killing shall be found to be within the bounds of the proper county it shall be the duty of such Justice give the person or persons a certificate of the facts to the Commissioners of the county, together with the scalps aforesaid, and the said Commissioners upon the receipt thereof shall immediately have such scalp or scalps destroyed and thereupon draw their warrant on the County Treasurer of the proper county, for the sum of a full grown fox fifty cents and for the scalp of a full grown wild cat two dollars, and for those that are not full grown for half the amount, for each and every scalp so produced as aforesaid," &c., &c.

The following will do for a form of certificate:

COLUMBIA COUNTY, ss:

To the Commissioners of said County, Gents:—This is to certify that ——— appeared before me, a Justice of the Peace of said county, and being duly sworn or affirmed, doth depose and say that he killed * —— full grown foxes, and —— foxes that are not full grown; also, that the place at which said foxes were taken and killed are in said county, and that they were taken and killed on the ——— day of ———, 187—, and the ears of the same are herewith produced.

Sworn and subscribed before me this —— day of ——, 187— } ———
——— J. P.

The Justice is allowed fifteen cents for the certificate.

*If the the foxes or wild cats are not full grown state the fact, if part are full grown and part not give the number full grown and the number not full grown.

BY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

October 4th. Court opened. Hon. William Elwell and Hons. I. K. Brickbaum and F. L. Shuman on the Bench. The following cases on the argument list were disposed of.

J. M. Dewitt vs. S. Creveling. Motion for a new trial. Rule discharged.

Mastellar vs. Schweppenheiser et. al. Application to open judgment. Rule discharged.

Auditor's report in estate of Thomas Fry. Exceptions overruled and report confirmed.

Road in Franklin township. Reviewers appointed.

In matter of Weaver & Sprankle vs. E. J. Bower et. al. Rule to show cause &c. Opinion filed.

J. F. Chapin vs. I. E. Patterson. Opinion filed.

Kile & Bro. vs. Jonathan Rishel and wife. Certiorari. Judgment reversed.

A. P. Young vs. John K. Young. Case stated. Judgment for defendant.

M. Shaffer vs. John McDowell. Issue directed to try facts.

Robbins vs. Shoemaker. Rule to set aside award of arbitrators. Rule discharged.

Commonwealth vs. Harman A. Kramer. Motion for a new trial. Opinion filed. Rule discharged. The Court then asked the defendant if they had anything to say why the sentence of he law should not be pronounced upon him. Kramer arose and said that there had been evidence against him that was not true. He denied asking Ringrose to buy the jury, and said Ringrose himself offered to attempt to buy them. He also explained in his way why he was in the two cellars on the day before the fire, and went over a great deal of the testimony, admitting everything that was proved on the trial, but denying his guilt. He exhibited to the Court his coat which he had on the night of the 25th when the matches caught fire, which showed the pockets slightly scorched. The coat was not produced at the trial.

The Court then said that the crime of which the jury had convicted the prisoner was next to the crime of wilful murder. But as the indictment did not charge the burning of the hotel when persons were in it, he could not be sentenced under that section of the statutes, which permitted a penalty of twenty years imprisonment and four thousand dollars fine. After some further remarks the Court sentenced Harman A. Kramer to pay a fine to the Commonwealth of five hundred dollars and undergo an imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of ten years.

"NOT PROVEN."—Minister. "Don't you know it's wicked to catch fish on the Sabbath?"

Small Boy (not having had a bite all the morning.) "Who's catchin' fish?"

While Dr. Mary Walker was lecturing lately in one of the rural towns, it is said that a youth cried out: "Are you the Mary that had a little lamb?" "No!" was the sharp reply, "but your mother had a little jackass."

A woman who bought a stamp at the post office this morning asked the engineer of the department to stick it on for her. He inquired if she could not stick it on herself, and she replied that she could not, because she was an entire stranger in town.

At a public meeting lately held, the following was the prize conundrum: What is the difference between a tenant and the son of a widow? The tenant has to pay rents; but the son of a widow has not two parents.

Herr Pumpernickle, having just played a composition of his own, burst into tears. Chorus of friends—"Oh, what is the matter? What can we do for you?" Herr Pumpernickle—"Ach! Nossing! Nossing! But ven I hear really coot music, zen must I always veep."

This is what a theological Tenton, with with hands uplifted in holy horror, once said about an unbeliever: "He believes in noddings. He doosh not belief in Gott, nor in ter Tuyful. Now, when a man doosh not believe in Gott, dere he ish; but when he doosh not belief in ter Tuyful, where ish he?"

Here is a conundrum which we do not remember to have seen in print: Why is a pig looking out of a second-story window like the moon? Because he looks round. If anybody triumphantly retorts that the moon does not always look round, you can reply that the pig doesn't either.

An exchange says: Young man, don't fool away your time going to see a fashionable girl. Paint, powder and pull-backs are all well enough, but winter is coming on, and you want to marry a good stout hired girl who can shovel snow.

A new edition of etiquette says that it is no longer fashionable for young men to call on their girls on Saturday evening. This will give the girls a chance to put their hair up in bits of paper before one o'clock on Sunday morning.

"Far be it from us to doubt the word of our brother editor," says the La Crosse Sun, "we believe them all to be truthful men; but when the Durand Times says that the water is so low at the mouth of the Chippewa river that catfish have to employ mud-turtles to tow them over the bar, we feel as though the editor must be away, and some local minister filling his place."

Good old Uncle Jonas said, one cold morning, when he was hunting for the matches, "When I die I hope I'll go where I won't have to make the fire every morning."

"You needn't fret about that," snapped his wife, from under the blankets; "you'll find the fire all ready for you, never you fear."

AN INVESTMENT.—Mamma. "Well, Tommy, what did Uncle Dives give you when you went to see him yesterday?"

Tommy. "He gave me a beautiful bright new three-cent piece."

Papa. "And what are you going to do with it?"

Tommy. "I'm going to buy a purse to put it in."

When you are tired of twirling your thumbs, sit down and see how fast you can say: "Shoes and socks shock Susan in an inexplicable manner, and inexorably she ceaseth sheating her shoes." It is worse than "Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers."

An arrival from Sitka, Alaska, reports a deplorable state of affairs there. Since the withdrawal of the troops there has not been a semblance of law, and nothing to restrain the lawless elements. Several hundred Indians menace the few white inhabitants, so that the latter are in fear of their lives, and meditate abandoning the country. The Indians plunder the Government buildings at will.

He invited her to lunch, and she, being a beautiful young lady, went. She read the bill of fare behind her sweet little fan, and whispered in zephyry accents, "Woodcock on toast." At the announcement it flashed upon his mind that his assets were but seventy-five cents. Something must be done. "Cornelia, do you know what a woodcock is?" he asked. "No, Mr. Spinks," she answered. "Well, then, my dear," said he, "it is as big as a halibut." "Oh, goodness gracious!" exclaimed the charming Cornelia, "then bring me some pork and beans." Spinks winked exultingly at the waiter, and the waiter winked knowingly at him.

THE REVENGE OF THE LITTLE HIPPOPOTAMUS.

BY PARK BENJAMIN.

A fat young hippopotamus
Sat grimly by the Nile,
Contriving dire vengeance
On a lady crocodile,
Who, that morning, for her breakfast
Ate up his brothers twain:
So he pondered long and deeply
How to pay her back again.

All at once an idea struck him,
And he broke into a smile
"I have it!" he cried, joyfully;
"I'll fix that crocodile!"
Then he trotted through the rushes
Until he reached dry land,
When he crept along quite silently
To a mound in the hot sand,

Where the crocodile had buried
Her eggs, because she knew
The torrid sun would hatch them
Within a month or two.
Now the savage mother-reptile
Was nowhere to be seen,
For she was calmly slumbering
Among the rushes green.

The little hippopotamus
Moved cautiously and slow,
Until he saw the heap of eggs,—
Then laughed he long and low.
Then boldly he marched forward,
And stamped upon that nest,
And jumped and kicked and pranced about,
As if he were possessed,

Till all the eggs were scattered
And broken every one,
While all the little crocodiles
Forth from the shells did run.
The ancient mother-crocodile,
Hearing her young ones' wail,
Came rushing from her muddy couch,
Waving her frightful tail.

The little hippopotamus
Was having then huge fun,
Stepping upon the babies,
To smash them one by one;
So he failed to see the mother,
Nor dreamed of his mishap,
Till—which! against his side so fat
There came an awful slap.

It lifted him from off his feet,
And hurled him up on high,
And away he went careering
Like a rocket in the sky.
How far he flew I know not,
But 't is said that he was thrown
On the pyramid of Cheops,
Straddling the topmost stone.

Being too fat to clamber down,
He may be there this day.
Unless some one in a balloon
Has carried him away.
But of this you may be certain,
That if he is not found
In the air or in the water,
He's somewhere on the ground.

Constantinople.

A glance at a map of Constantinople will show the reader the general features of the city. The old city, formerly Byzantium, but now called Stamboul by the Turks, is the part which existed in 1453, when they captured the place. It is nearly triangular, with the Sea of Marmora and the Mediterranean. The entire city is surrounded by the lofty double wall built by the Greco Romans, with a deep fosse on the land side, which is now employed in the peaceful cultivation of onions, tomatoes, and melons. The walls are still in tolerable preservation, and exceedingly picturesque, although no longer of use for defensive purposes against the missiles of modern warfare. They are festooned with ivy and beautified by many massive crenelated and venerable towers, while it is quite common to see houses surmounting them and turning the battlements into windows, casements and lattices being inserted in the embrasures. At the southwestern angle of the walls is the fortress called the Yedee Kouliler, of Seven Towers This has been often used as a dungeon for prisoners of state, into which the foreign ambassadors were formerly thrown upon the breaking out of hostilities, under the guard of a strong garrison, which is always maintained there.

The Seraglio Point was, until within a few years, the site of one of the most famous, romantic and beautiful abodes of royalty the world has seen. Commanding from its airy and stately gold-fretted halls views of the Marmora, the Bosphorus, and the Golden Horn, with the snow-clad ranges of Mount Olympus and the sight of Brusa, the first capital of Turkey, visible in the dim distance, its marble fountains ever spouting silver rain, its gardens ever in bloom, and the gilded domes and minarets rising skyward around it like the fairy fabrics of the land of dreams, it was the central spot of the finest combination of natural and artificial scenery the world has yet seen. But the Seraglio was burned a few years ago, with all its mysterious and romantic associations. The point remains; the gardens remain; but the palace is gone, whither the empire of which it was the centre is going when Kismet pronounces its doom.—S. G. W. Benjamin in Harper's Magazine for October.

The Antonelli Will Case.

The Rome correspondent of the London Times telegraphing on July 26 says: "This morning the tribunal pronounced its decision in favor of the plaintiff on the point before the court in the Antonelli case. It was given in the form of a diffuse summing up prepared by the President Cavaliere Pio Toodrani, and pointed out at length that neither the Italian civil code nor the Roman and canon law placed any prohibition on the proof of birth by means of personal testimony in cases of this kind, consequently, on account of the age and infirmity of the Archpriest Venditti and of Tamburlini, the eldest of the cardinal's servants, the tribunal ordered their examination pro futura memoria; but held that the midwife, Gervase, being in good health, the same grounds for her examination did not exist. The court delegated to the Judge Cavaliere Spaziani the task of receiving the evidence of the two witnesses early in August, ordering at the same time that their depositions should remain secret in the custody of the chancellor of the court. The decision now pronounced does not in point of law prejudge the general question of the admissibility of oral testimony to be tried in November; but from the line of argument laid down in the decision now given, it may be expected the court will then accord the right to examine the 70 witnesses to be brought forward. Great admiration was expressed by members of the Roman bar in court at the lucidity and learning displayed in the judgment. The Counts Antonelli having to produce in court the cardinal's will, published in the Times last December, Countess Labertini has declared her intention of impounding it, on the grounds of forgery and inefficacy."

The first book ever produced in England, was printed by William Caxton in the Almeary at Westminster, in the year 1476, and was entitled the "Dictes and Sayings of the Philosophers." A copy of the original is extremely rare and valuable, fetching, when sold, many hundreds of pounds. It is a small folio volume, very beautifully printed on ash-gray paper, with red initial letters, and is remarkable for its evenness of color and distinctness of type. There is a fine copy of the "Dictes" in the British Museum and Mr. Elliot Stock is engaged in producing a fac simile of it by permission of the trustees of that institution.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
For the Cure of Consumption, Coughs and Colds.

The great virtue of this medicine is that it ripens the matter and throws it out of the system, purifies the blood, and thus effects a cure.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic, for cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, &c.

The Tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of Indigestion.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills for the cure of Liver Complaint, &c.

These pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet more efficacious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for Consumption as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good digestion, and enables the organs to form good blood; and thus creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained will cure every case of Consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines persevered in.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. Schenck's medicines for sale by all Druggists. sept

VEGETINE.

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

ITS MEDICINAL QUALITIES ARE

Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully-selected barks, roots, and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of scrofula, Scrofulous Humor Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Cancer, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, and Spinal complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Disease of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead, and Ringworm, Vegetine has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, Vegetine acts directly upon the cause of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness, and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, Vegetine is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable Blood Purifier yet placed before the public.

THE BEST EVIDENCE

The following letter from Rev. P. S. Best, Pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. P. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony as there is no doubt about the curative powers of Vegetine.

NATICK, MASS., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS,

Dear Sir.—We have good reason for regarding your Vegetine a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying; two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him Vegetine, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of Vegetine, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
R. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Costiveness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Foul Stomach, Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood,

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed: cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

THE INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

The "International" for 1878 will present the usual number of articles upon religious, scientific, art, political and social subjects most occupying the public attention. It will devote space to European matters so far as they are likely to be interesting to Americans. It will continue to introduce the most popular foreign writers to compete for favor with the best American writers. It will also "be able, strong and practical, as well as popular, in character and style of its presentations. It is safe to say that no other magazine in the world can supply its place in the libraries of Americans who love to consider the progress of events throughout the world, and to know their bearing upon the interests of the United States. Professors Cutting, Holtzendorf, Vogel, Dr. Dollinger, Dr. Dorner, Dr. Neumeyer, Dr. Carl Abel, Mr. Julius Bubee, Brugsh Bey, M. Rolin Jacquemyns, M. Spuller, Dep., M. Gauffres, Mr. Hamerton, Mr. Freeman, Rev. Dr. James H. Ecar, Thomas Brassey, M. P., Gutierratis, Madame Villari, Doss Letters, Peasant Dr. Weedey, Dr. Peabody, Principal Dawson, Judge Cooley, Dr. Wharton, Wm. C. Bryant, Ray Palmer, Carl Schurz, General Sigel, Dr. Osgood, Alex. Delmar, V. Botta, Eugene Schuyler, Bayard Taylor, E. P. Whipple, and others may be named as special contributors.

Thus is organized as powerful an organ of thought and opinion as can be easily conceived, and it presents itself for popular support during 1877. It is not known that there is any reason why copies of the "Review" should not be found in every household. It has already the largest circulation of any secular review, because of its popular attractions. These attractions will be developed gradually, and increased as their need is made known.
